BRONZE

On 19 September 2020, cyclists across the country will be participating in a 100km ride in memory of Australia's police who have been killed in the line of duty.

Now in its third year, the remembering mates – century bike ride brings together police, friends of police and their families.

A 100km ride will be held in Canberra – that concludes at the National Police Memorial in time for a service to commemorate those officer's who paid the ultimate sacrifice.

With money going to Police Legacy organisations, sponsorship packages are available.
